UPDATE ON THE COLES CLASS ACTION

Pabalan v Coles Supermarkets

The Applicant and Coles attended a court-ordered mediation earlier this week. No agreement to settle the Coles Class Action was reached at the mediation.

The parties will continue to confer on the next steps in the Coles Class Action prior to the next court date this year.

We will provide group members with a substantive update in the coming weeks when we have new case management directions from the Court.

In the interim, we appreciated that group members may have questions for us. While we are limited with how much information we can share about the mediation and what will happen next in the Coles Class Action, group members may contact us on 1300 575 102 or coles@aderolaw.com.au.
